Travel Designer Group launches Designer Voyages

Travel Designer Group recently launched its new endeavor – Designer Voyages, which will cater travel agents with inbound tours and packages to UAE. With a strong hold on the online b2b Global Reservation System, they are now all set to expand to the offline business for UAE. With a large Set up and international headquarters in Dubai, they will be able to provide customized and one on one services to the agents for them to book UAE with confidence.

Over the past 20 years, TDG has built a solid reputation for quality and innovation and now are focused more than ever on offering offline packages to the agents all across the globe through Designer Voyages. The product is designed to make the experience of agents easy and hassle-free by offering wide range of custom designed package as per client's budget. Travel Designer Group has strong presence in offline sector with Designer India catering package related needs for India, Nepal and Bhutan and RezLive Thailand for Thailand. Designer Voyages will be a feather in the cap to build strong offline product for UAE, the most popular short-haul destination from India.

Commenting on this exciting development, Jaal Shah, Group Managing Director, RezLive.com said, "UAE inbound has always been part of our portfolio. With Expo 2020, around the corner, we found a great opportunity to invest heavily in the inbound sector. Drawing from our 20 years of experience in the sector and presence in UAE, I am sure that our UAE inbound product will be welcomed by all our clients across the globe".

Over the last ten years, Travel Designer Group has acquired over 24,000 travel agents across the globe, who work with them both online and offline. Travel Designer Group is known for credibility, reliability and ease of booking, which the agents cherish. This new endeavour promises great potential.

LOT Polish Airlines strengthens Budapest as its second hub

In 2020, LOT Polish Airlines to continue to develop Budapest as its second hub in addition to its home base Warsaw. In June 2020, the airline will add Dubrovnik in Croatia and Varna on the Bulgarian coast of the Black Sea to its flight schedule from Budapest. Both will be operated with modern Embraer 195 aircraft.

In addition, starting on 6th May 2020, LOT Polish Airlines will increase its weekly services from the Hungarian capital to Seoul in South Korea from currently three to four flights per week. Like all long-haul flights, LOT Polish Airlines operates this route with a modern Boeing 787 Dreamliner.
